Background

The Akeros religion started in the World of the Akeros known as Heaven by humans. To the Akeros it has a single tenet: the worship and enaction of the God of the Akeros Metatron's will. To humans its a bit more complicated as the three choirs of Akeros are viewed as a complex system of deities that help and protect the loyal.

Customs

Differences
Akeros	Humans
Utter devotion, good works and will towards other races (With the exception of demons and certain others)	Daily prayer, purification and acts of good will towards others.

Beliefs

Differences
Topic	Akeros	Humans
The Status of God versus Gods	To the Akeros there is only one god, who created all living creatures to put to the test, and that only through enlightenment and service will it be possible to talk to the god, and enact its will.	To humans, Akeros themselves are minor and upper gods, and the God of the Akeros is their benevolent king.
The Akeros	The most populous of the Akeros, they serve as messengers and guardians to humanoids across the dimensions.	Akeros are believed to personally be bonded to a person as a 'guardian' that would help protect them in battle and in life.
The Archakeros	The Guardian Akeros of otherworld nations and countries, and are concerned with the issues and events surrounding these, including politics, military matters, commerce and trade.	Archakeros were believed to guide nation leaders on the path to peace and prosperity for all.
The Principalities	Overseers of the material world, guiding the world and its nations, cities and towns. They control various religions and political movements throughout the material realm. This type of Akeros was responsible for the origin for the Eternal Fire but the religion has since spoiled due to greedy, hateful humans. A subgroup of the the Eternal Fire was created around Cthugha, The Living Flame who claimed in dark eldritch whispers to be the true Eternal Fire.	Principalities were believed to work through the church to help guide the nations and bestow blessings to the material world.
The Powers	The Powers serve as interdimensional guards, responding to tears in the fabric of reality, space and time. As well as being the first wave against the forces of the demons.	Powers were believed to keep dark spirits and demons from crossing the threshold of the world and guarding the good and just.

The Virtues		Virtues were believed to be the source of miracles.
The Dominions	A type of Akeros that contacted 'enlightened' rulers to guide them on the path of Metatron's plan.	Dominions were believed to be the personal guardians and inner voices of rulers.
The Thrones	The commanders of the hosts of 'heaven'.	Thrones were believed to be the go between of the Upper and Middle choir.
The Cherubim	The personal royal guards of Metatron and his fiercest warriors.	Cherubim were the royal guards of the God of the Akeros.
The Seraphim		Seraphim were the most loyal and powerful servants of the God of Akeros and could burn away the sin of anyone they wished.
The God of the Akeros		The God of the Akeros was a loving king and father to all, he wanted all to have peace and prosperity but knows that a bit of suffering is the price so he charged his Akeros with leading the people to their destiny.

Trivia

- The Church of the Angels of Order and Light is based on Christianity, similarly to the Church of the Eternal Fire but less corrupt.
